The commander at Fort Pitt was police inspector, Francis Jeffrey Dickens, the third son of Charles Dickens, the novelist.

THE CASHIER'S DAUGHTER.
The Merchants National Bank, of Toledo, Ohio, is recognized as one of the prosperous financial concerns of that busy city; and Mr. C. W. Wain, Esq., is well known as its Assistant Cashier. Mr. Wain has a daughter who suffered severely from rheumatism. Although only thirteen years old, this delicate disease took a firm hold of her, and for months tortured her. Hearing that Mr. Wain had used Athrophos to restore the young lady to health and anxious to know the effect of the medicine on one so young, a gentleman called upon Mr. Wain, to ask for information about it, which Mr. Wain very courteously gave in this wise:

"My daughter was indeed a sufferer. For several months she was laid up with rheumatism, and unable to go to school or to attend to her studies at home. We were quite perplexed to know what to do about it, for the disease did not yield to the ordinary remedies of the physicians. After she had endured much pain, I heard of Athrophos, and tried a bottle. I was astonished, both at the completeness of the cure and the promptness with which it was brought about. I had supposed that a medicine so powerful as this might have left some unpleasant effects, but it is now many months since she was cured, and there has been no return of the disease. My daughter is as well as ever, attends her school regularly, and is taking her usual interest in her studies. I have good reason to hold Athrophos in very high esteem, and freely to recommend it to all who are afflicted with rheumatism."

From the bank the gentleman went to the drug store of Messrs. Van Stone & Crosby. On asking Mr. Crosby what he knew about Athrophos, that gentleman replied: "We have sold a good deal of it, and I have heard of its doing much good in many cases."

"Their names? Well, there is one just around the corner from here. He is a baker, working at Flower's baker shop on Jefferson avenue."

On asking Mr. Flower about rheumatism, he replied, "No, I haven't the rheumatism, but my man Thomas had it, and that's what I call it, with the long name—that knocked it out of him. Better wait and see him; he'll be here in a few minutes." Presently in came Mr. G. W. Thomas, a bright and cheery looking young man of about thirty, who looked as if he had never suffered an ache. "Surely you are not the man who was laid up with rheumatism?"

"Yes, I am the man, was his reply, and I was all crippled up with it, so that I couldn't work. Yes, that Athrophos is the stuff. It could give twenty-five dollars for a bottle rather than go without it. The rheumatism came on me when I was at work in Chicago. I was sick a long while. My first attack was in the fall of 1913. I tried liniments and everything else I could get. You know in a baker shop every body who comes in recommends something or other. Well, I took them all. I had to quit work. One Saturday night I was helped home from the shop, for I could not walk. On the way I got a bottle of Athrophos. I liked the idea of it, because it didn't offer to cure everything; only rheumatism and neuralgia. I was undressed and took to bed, for I could not help myself. I took a tea-spoonful of the medicine in milk. When I had had it down about two hours I began to feel numb. Now, I was not in pain. In about an hour and a half after that I felt prickly all over, as if with a lot of needles. Then I was cured. Oh, what a sweet day Wednesday morning I was able to be at work again. Since that I have never lost a day. I took in all about three bottles."

"Well, you ought to see my old land-lady, old Mrs. Smith. She is 73 years old. She had taken pretty much everything for her rheumatism; but no good. I had about enough of this medicine left for two doses, and I gave it to her. She took it, and it relieved her at once. Then she got another bottle. That was two months ago. She has had no return of the rheumatism; nor have I either."

If you cannot get an advertisement of your drug-store, we will send it to you on receipt of a dollar price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he is not to be had, we will send it to you, but only at one dollar per bottle. Address: ATHROPHOS CO., 112 West 14th St., New York.

DR. TALMAGE talked Sunday to his congregation about dancing.
DAN MACE, the famous driver, died in New York yesterday of Bright's disease.
If the business men and property holders come out to vote at the democratic primary election a week from next Saturday, a splendid ticket can be nominated. Such a nomination is equivalent to an election.
CHAIRMAN BARNUM, of the national democratic committee, in an interview, says: "I have traveled over a great section of the country, and have canvassed with many people of many varieties of opinion, and my conclusion, impartially taken, is that Mr. Cleveland's administration is giving universal satisfaction."

GEORGE W. WILLIAMS, minister to Haiti, who has been making all sorts of charges against Secretary Bayard, is charged himself before the state department with grave offenses while a citizen of Ohio, and with borrowing money from the American consuls while traveling abroad and never returning it. There is a possibility of his official decapitation.
MRS. GRANT has seen her husband general of the army. She has seen him occupy the white house as the president of the nation for two terms. She has lived with him in more than one palace presented to him by his admiring friends. She made the famous tour around the world with him, and saw kings, queens, soldiers and statesmen receiving him with royal honors. But none of these splendors dazzled the practical little woman who married plain Captain Grant at a time when the future did not appear very bright for either of them. Looking back over a lifetime of remarkable vicissitudes, Mrs. Grant says that her happiest days were when she and her husband were living in a modest cottage in Galena on $40 per month. After all, wealth, power and the world's applause do not bring happiness. They are not to be compared to love and contentment in a log cabin.

From the bank the gentleman went to the drug store of Messrs. Van Stone & Crosby. On asking Mr. Crosby what he knew about Athrophos, that gentleman replied: "We have sold a good deal of it, and I have heard of its doing much good in many cases."

"Their names? Well, there is one just around the corner from here. He is a baker, working at Flower's baker shop on Jefferson avenue."

On asking Mr. Flower about rheumatism, he replied, "No, I haven't the rheumatism, but my man Thomas had it, and that's what I call it, with the long name—that knocked it out of him. Better wait and see him; he'll be here in a few minutes." Presently in came Mr. G. W. Thomas, a bright and cheery looking young man of about thirty, who looked as if he had never suffered an ache. "Surely you are not the man who was laid up with rheumatism?"

"Yes, I am the man, was his reply, and I was all crippled up with it, so that I couldn't work. Yes, that Athrophos is the stuff. It could give twenty-five dollars for a bottle rather than go without it. The rheumatism came on me when I was at work in Chicago. I was sick a long while. My first attack was in the fall of 1913. I tried liniments and everything else I could get. You know in a baker shop every body who comes in recommends something or other. Well, I took them all. I had to quit work. One Saturday night I was helped home from the shop, for I could not walk. On the way I got a bottle of Athrophos. I liked the idea of it, because it didn't offer to cure everything; only rheumatism and neuralgia. I was undressed and took to bed, for I could not help myself. I took a tea-spoonful of the medicine in milk. When I had had it down about two hours I began to feel numb. Now, I was not in pain. In about an hour and a half after that I felt prickly all over, as if with a lot of needles. Then I was cured. Oh, what a sweet day Wednesday morning I was able to be at work again. Since that I have never lost a day. I took in all about three bottles."

"Well, you ought to see my old land-lady, old Mrs. Smith. She is 73 years old. She had taken pretty much everything for her rheumatism; but no good. I had about enough of this medicine left for two doses, and I gave it to her. She took it, and it relieved her at once. Then she got another bottle. That was two months ago. She has had no return of the rheumatism; nor have I either."

If you cannot get an advertisement of your drug-store, we will send it to you on receipt of a dollar price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he is not to be had, we will send it to you, but only at one dollar per bottle. Address: ATHROPHOS CO., 112 West 14th St., New York.

GEORGE W. MRS. GRANT has seen her husband general of the army. She has seen him occupy the white house as the president of the nation for two terms. She has lived with him in more than one palace presented to him by his admiring friends. She made the famous tour around the world with him, and saw kings, queens, soldiers and statesmen receiving him with royal honors. But none of these splendors dazzled the practical little woman who married plain Captain Grant at a time when the future did not appear very bright for either of them. Looking back over a lifetime of remarkable vicissitudes, Mrs. Grant says that her happiest days were when she and her husband were living in a modest cottage in Galena on $40 per month. After all, wealth, power and the world's applause do not bring happiness. They are not to be compared to love and contentment in a log cabin.

Better wait and see him; he'll be here in a few minutes." Presently in came Mr. G. W. Thomas, a bright and cheery looking young man of about thirty, who looked as if he had never suffered an ache. "Surely you are not the man who was laid up with rheumatism?"

"Yes, I am the man, was his reply, and I was all crippled up with it, so that I couldn't work. Yes, that Athrophos is the stuff. It could give twenty-five dollars for a bottle rather than go without it. The rheumatism came on me when I was at work in Chicago. I was sick a long while. My first attack was in the fall of 1913. I tried liniments and everything else I could get. You know in a baker shop every body who comes in recommends something or other. Well, I took them all. I had to quit work. One Saturday night I was helped home from the shop, for I could not walk. On the way I got a bottle of Athrophos. I liked the idea of it, because it didn't offer to cure everything; only rheumatism and neuralgia. I was undressed and took to bed, for I could not help myself. I took a tea-spoonful of the medicine in milk. When I had had it down about two hours I began to feel numb. Now, I was not in pain. In about an hour and a half after that I felt prickly all over, as if with a lot of needles. Then I was cured. Oh, what a sweet day Wednesday morning I was able to be at work again. Since that I have never lost a day. I took in all about three bottles."

"Well, you ought to see my old land-lady, old Mrs. Smith. She is 73 years old. She had taken pretty much everything for her rheumatism; but no good. I had about enough of this medicine left for two doses, and I gave it to her. She took it, and it relieved her at once. Then she got another bottle. That was two months ago. She has had no return of the rheumatism; nor have I either."

If you cannot get an advertisement of your drug-store, we will send it to you on receipt of a dollar price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he is not to be had, we will send it to you, but only at one dollar per bottle. Address: ATHROPHOS CO., 112 West 14th St., New York.

The funeral of Mrs. Timothy Hogan occurs from the Cathedral to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The Wabash employees will sell 1,000 tickets to their forthcoming ball, to be held at the Princess rink.

Otto Niehter has taken out a permit to erect a one story frame house on lot 150, Bond's addition, to cost $500.

The Jeffersonville Daily Gazette has suspended publication. The paper had no telegraph report and died for want of life.

It is proposed to have another reunion of soldiers here this summer. A reunion would be novel outside of a presidential campaign.

The planet Jupiter is now on duty as evening star. It can be seen quite nicely this month, but then it takes a lay off for six years.

A. P. Cogrove, formerly of this city, is now a reporter on the Chicago evening Mail. He is a cousin of F. K. Cogrove, the livery man.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bookwalter returned yesterday from Kokomo, where they attended the funeral of their granddaughter, Miss Blanche Buddell.

Prof Fred Heinicke went to Grand Rapids yesterday and last night participated in a concert given by Professor Wellenstein, formerly of Fort Wayne.

Lew Clark, of the Oliver house, was fined $10 and costs by Justice Ryan yesterday afternoon for renting premises on Lafayette street for immoral purposes.

The tramps arrested yesterday for robbing one Blue were let go. Prosecutor Dawson would not hold them on the testimony of the emigrant, who was bewildered.

James Keegan, foreman of the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad shop at Grand Rapids, returned to his home last night, accompanied by his brother, William Keegan.

The Indianapolis Jenney Electric Light Company has changed its name by dropping the words "the" and "light." This is to distinguish it from the Fort Wayne association.

Agent Newton has received orders to send all the cars from the Cairo road back to that line before May 1. The Wabash company have been using 521 box cars, 173 stock cars, and 216 flat cars from the Cairo branch.

The Press & Lester combination are engaged for an appearance at the Princess rink to-morrow and Thursday evenings. The company is composed of five specialty men who will do bicycle riding and skating in fine style.

The SENTINEL is receiving quite a boom just now on account of late telegraphic news, and many new subscribers are being added to our list. Subscribers who fail to get their paper regularly will please report all omissions to this office.

Wm. Schneider, the deputy sheriff, has been employed by Wm. Gause and Wm. Krough, local representatives of the Empire Machine Works, to sell agricultural implements. He will be temporarily released from official duty by Sheriff Nelson.

T. B. Helekin is strongly supported for water works trustee. Mr. Helekin is not a politician, but as he has made a splendid water works officer his friends will work for him and will ask for the nomination of at least one Irishman on the city ticket.

County Treasurer Dalman will have his office open Friday and Saturday for the receipt of county taxes without penalty. Mr. Dalman must make his settlement with the state treasurer before May 15, or he would give longer time to delinquent tax payers.

Fred W. Born was in the city to-day en route from Germany to his home in Huntington. Mr. Born came over on the steamer Lus with 1,700 other passengers and the vessel had a stormy time crossing the ocean. On the fourth day of their trip they met a British steamer thoroughly skinned of its rigging.

Formerly $5 was charged to each of the Wabash employees receiving a switch key, the return of the key being received in full satisfaction of the charge in case of leaving the service. Since putting in the new locks, new keys are furnished to employees, the price of which is but $1. "Spot cash" is demanded, and the key is the absolute property of the employee, no provision being made for its return to the company.

Police court was a blank to-day.

The Princess rink continues to be well patronized, so we hear.

Mrs. W. D. Maier is the guest of Mrs. J. C. Hecks at Chicago.

Master Mechanic Barnes, of the Wabash, went to Peru this morning.

Mrs. Hugh M. Diehl is quite ill and last night Capt. Diehl was at her bedside.

Republican papers are again cutting down the force of workmen in the Pittsburgh shop.

A cow, owned by William Thiele, was killed on the Lake Shore road by a passenger train.

Louis Schneider, will not run for councilman in the Fourth ward, although strongly urged.

Phillip Miller, the Fairfield avenue saloonkeeper, was fined $10 and costs yesterday by Justice Ryan for selling liquor on Sunday.

Two trains of emigrants passed through the city this morning. One was a "double header," and consisted of fifteen coaches and five baggage cars.

The Allen County Medical society will meet in the circuit court room this evening at 7 o'clock. Papers will be read by Doctor's McCauley, Stemen and Gregg.

Chief Hilbrecht has sold the team of horses driven to the Alert hose cart for $375. Yesterday he purchased a fine bay horse and is negotiating for another animal.

Deputy Sheriff Platt J. Wise was at Monroeville to-day settling the estate of Dan Mays, against which an execution stands. It is said the matter was compromised.

Justice and Mrs. Daniel Ryan and Mrs. R. C. Kelly left for Somerset, O., last evening, where J. Costigan, father of Medamoe Ryan and Kelly, lies at the point of death.

Judge Hench rendered these judgments to-day in the superior court: George R. Coffroth vs. Max Rosenthal, $411.62; J. D. Nuttmann vs. Nicholas Zuber et al, $143.20.

Last evening a tramp stole a coat from August Korn, a Broadway grocer. Officer Franke nabbed the thief at the fair grounds, after an exciting chase, and the grand jury will indict the vag.

Joe Cope is now clerk to Col. George Humphrey, superintendent of the government building. Will Tyler held the position. The change, it is said, insures Col. Humphrey's retention in the position he holds.

The divorce case of Eliza McLaren against Henry McLaren was stricken from the superior court docket this morning by Judge Hench. The parties have patched up their quarrel and did not appear in court.

D. B. Stroppe will not be opposed for councilman in the Sixth ward. The people were once represented by Mr. Stroppe and are satisfied with his record. He is a large property holder and will attend to the business of the city.

The Fort Wayne commandery Knights Templar, meets next Thursday evening to confer the order of the red cross on Prof. W. F. Heath, of this city, and J. R. Slack, of Huntington. After the ceremony the Sir Knights sit to a banquet.

President Hught, Superintendent O'Rourke, General Freight Agent Gill, Masters of Transportation Hunter and Fitzgerald, and Supervisor Scott will inspect the Grand Rapids and Richmond roads to-morrow. They ride in a special train.

The city real estate transfers are: Charles S. Back to P. M. Griener, lot 75, Backhill's addition, $200; Frank E. Earl to Peter J. Schiel, lot 64, Laselle's addition, $100; Anna Quandt to Peter Bernhard, lot 16, Backhill's and Nelson's addition, $200.

Conductor Cutter, of the Wabash, received a letter, last week, from ex-Conductor Charlie Rhodet, a former Fort Wayne boy, now engaged in railroading on the Pacific slope. Rhodet says he runs on the road where he is employed as long and hard. The division points being 157 miles apart. Crews run "first in, first out," and the wages of conductor are $85 per month and of brakemen $65, and they have the same hospital scheme as the Wabash.

It is said that on account of the strict economical principles advanced by the heads of the Wabash railroad department, that hereafter the custom of burning up the old ties that are each spring taken from the roadbed and replaced with new ones, is to be abolished. The old ties are to be piled up and when dried will be used at terminal points to fire up engines. The section men also use these ties for fuel and the loss is severe on the poor men, who get small wages.

By a change made by the late legislature in the rules of practice in the supreme court, any case will be deemed submitted after thirty days' notice to either party to the suit, and briefs must be filed within sixty days after such notice. Hereafter they could be submitted only on the first day of each term of court, which occurs, of course, only once in six months. There is no emergency clause in the law making the change and it will therefore not go into effect till July.

DICKSON'S KICK.

The Indianapolis Theatrical Managers disturbed by the inevitable Church Lecture Course.

The fact that in the Indianapolis lecture course a number of concerts and entertainments bordering on the dramatic have been given at Plymouth church, which pays no license, has seriously disturbed the equanimity of the local theatrical managers there, who are now discussing the advisability of holding religious services in their respective houses on the Sabbath, in order to evade the provisions of the ordinance requiring them to pay an annual license fee to the city. They think if they are taxed that Plymouth church should be taxed. It has been suggested that as a way out of the difficulty the Grand Opera House might be called "Dickson's Cathedral," the Dime Museum "Sackett's Chapel," and English's Theatre "The World's Church." It is not likely, however, that the managers will be able to circumvent The Dickson's, who lead the kick, leave the Academy in this city.

CUTTING THE FORCE.

Master Mechanic Barnes instructed to make a sweeping reduction on the Wabash Road.

For a week past local mention has been made of dismissals here and there on the Wabash road. It transpires that Master Mechanic Barnes has been instructed to make a sweeping cut, but he will work all around Fort Wayne and probably leave the force intact here. At Toledo 150 will be dismissed. Detroit will lose as many more, and the Peru and Andrews shops will be cut to small repair stations. Yesterday Mr. Barnes ordered ten switch engines, on the eastern division, to the round house, and has reduced the number of roadmen one third. Conductors are put back braking and engineers are asked to handle the shovel, while firemen and brakemen get honorable dismissals. It is the intention of Mr. Barnes to touch Fort Wayne last, and maybe the force of workmen here will not be reduced. This is pretty nice on the part of Mr. Barnes.

MCLAUGHLIN WINS.

The Daugherty brother shows his opponent, Charles J. Moth, the Prussian champion, three times that of five.

Much interest is manifested in the forthcoming wrestling match at the Academy of Music. Col. J. H. McLaughlin, of Detroit, threw Charles J. Moth, the Prussian champion, three times in five, in a contest at Muskegon Saturday night. Five bouts were tried, each of a different style, for a purse of $250. The first round was collar and elbow, and was won by McLaughlin in seven minutes; the second, Greek-Roman, was won by Moth in five minutes; the third, back hold, was won by McLaughlin in four minutes; the fourth, catch-as-catch-can, was won by Moth after a severe struggle lasting eighteen minutes; the fifth and last, side hold, was won by McLaughlin in ten minutes. McLaughlin, having won three out of five, was declared the winner.

HE WISHES HE HADN'T.

Wm. Meeks wishes he hadn't threatened to call on Mrs. Mary McLaughlin.

Mrs. Mary McLaughlin called on Deputy Prosecutor Bittinger this morning and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Wm. Meeks, whom she charged with a vicious, untimely and boisterous call. Mrs. McLaughlin's husband was killed on the railroad some time ago, and since then Mrs. McLaughlin has lived at 186 West Main street. Wm. Meeks called on the lady last night and rudely handled her. He pulled her out of bed, crossed her in an objectionable manner, and otherwise behaved himself so as to frighten her terribly. A warrant is out for the arrest of Meeks, and he will be attended to by the grand jury. The charge is rather serious, and the man now wishes he had not been so fresh.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

The Grand Rapids Railroad Company build a New Style of Freight Cars.

The G. R. & I. railroad company are building 150 new freight box cars at the south yards, in Grand Rapids. They will be 36 feet long—two feet longer than any other car used in Michigan, and with 25 tons capacity. The rapidly increasing freight business makes an addition to the equipment necessary. About 200 men are now employed at the car works, and the cars are being turned out at the rate of one a day. These shops should have been built at Fort Wayne, and but for the bad faith of the road, which never touched the city, they would

119 in One Day.

It would seem almost incredible, but it is a fact, that Dr. Nicholls yesterday had 119 patients at his office at the Robinson house. Each of the entire number consulted the doctor, and a large portion of them received treatment. To those unacquainted with the doctor, his wonderful success may not be understood, but to the many hundreds of patients whom the doctor has treated the past six weeks it is no mystery. His extensive practice is simply owing to the fact that that he gives entire satisfaction. In fact he cures his patients, and the good news is passed around.

Dr. Nicholls is a physician. He has had unusual advantages of education and experience, both abroad and in this country, and his unprejudiced mind will readily see the reason of his extensive and most remarkable success.

Messrs. Lillie & Munson this morning appeared on the street with a spanking new team of bay horses, the two weighing over 3,000 pounds. They were attached to a new truck, decked in new harness and altogether the outfit was fine.
